About the Fund

The RE:CM Money Market Fund comprises a diversified combination of money market instruments.

Fund Objective

The Fund aims to maximise interest income, preserve capital and provide liquidity. This Fund is also suitable for risk averse investors seeking a temporary, safe holding vehicle in times of market uncertainty. Investors seeking capital preservation, requiring regular interest income and liquidity should invest in this fund.

Risk Measures

Capital losses are unlikely but can occur. For example, should one of the issuers of an asset held within the underlying Fund default and a loss occur, this loss will be borne by the Fund and the investors.

INVESTMENT COMMENT

The RE:CM Money Market Fund generated an income yield at month end of 5.7% against the benchmark yield of 4.8%. Fund duration reduced from 88 days in August to 82 days at the end of September 2013. The money market yield curve followed bond yields lower during the month with 12-month rates decreasing by around 15 basis points. At the latest MPC meeting, the Reserve Bank kept the repo rate unchanged at 5%. Headline inflation remained above the Reserve Bank's 3% - 6% target band and increased from 6.3% in July to 6.4% in August. This increase was in line with market expectations and is mainly attributable to higher transport costs arising from the 32 cents per litre increase in the petrol price at the start of the month. Inflation is expected to remain under pressure with current Rand weakness. The higher than expected trade deficit of R19.1 billion will also not assist recent market volatility. The Reserve Bank will however have limited room to adjust rates in the short term given relatively weak economic growth. The fund currently has a 55% exposure to floating rate instruments and remains competitively positioned in the current interest rate cycle. Almost 90% of the fund is exposed to the primary banks. We continue to look for value in commercial paper issues but will not reach for yield by investing in lower rated corporates.

Disclaimer: Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (Unit trusts) are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The manager may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio where insufficient liquidity exists. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the management company, RE:CM Collective Investments (Pty) Ltd (RE:CM). Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs. The price of each unit in the RE:CM Money Market Fund is aimed at a constant value. The total return to the investor is primarily made up of interest received but, may also include any gain or loss made on any particular instrument. In most cases this will merely have the effect of increasing or decreasing the daily yield, but in an extreme case it can have the effect of reducing the capital value of the Fund. Forward pricing is used. Funds are valued daily at 15h00 with the exception of the RE:CM Money Market Fund which is valued before 18h00. Instructions must reach RE:CM before 14h00 to ensure same day value (11h00 for the RE:CM Money Market Fund). Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. Different classes of units apply to these portfolios and are subject to different fees and charges. Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, defined as the total market value of all assets in the unit portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, uncertified securities tax, VAT, auditors' fees, bank charges, custodian fees, trustee fees, annual management fee and performance fees) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. These portfolios may be closed. RE:CM Collective Investments (Pty) Ltd, Company Registration Number: 2004/027540/07, is a member of the Association for Savings and Investment SA (ASISA).
